Important Happenings and Local Notes from the County Seat.

L. B. WELLMAN, Local Editor

Good Road Talks at Y. M. I. Club.

The last club entertainment for the fiscal year occurred Tuesday night when state road commissioner C. W. Gates and Mr. Dodge of the bureau of good roads at Washington gave talks on matters pertaining to their special lines of work. The attendance was large, the business men of the town, a large number of automobilists and several visiting road experts helping to make up a good audience. Mr. Dodge, who spoke for about half an hour, explained in an interesting manner, the work of the government for the betterment of the highways and explained the importance of the country road as a feeder for the railroad, showing how the good road lowers the expense of hauling to the extent of many millions of dollars annually. His description of government model road work in different localities was very interesting. Mr. Gates explained the benefits to the several towns through their taking advantage of state aid and explained the working out of this plan. He outlined the present plan of road building as it is being done throughout the state at present, maintaining that the gravel road is the road for Vermont, as natural resources provide excellent material and showing that this sort of road bed furnishes the most substantial base for more expensive work in the future should that prove to be the desire. The good road attracts the summer visitor, who has thereby a better chance to become acquainted with our state and its many attractions. Mr. Gates spoke particularly of the work in our own county of Orleans and said further that this year every town in the state with exception of about 17 would take advantage of the state aid. He closed his remarks with an appeal for better state advertising by way of always speaking the good word—putting forward the best arguments for ourselves and forgetting the drawbacks, the latter being in his estimation, few and far between. He held the closest attention of his audience during his address and received much applause at its close. After the addresses, the club's usual banquet of Oregon apples (which might as well have been raised in Vermont) was spread and an hour of social intercourse, which has become a feature of these "Get-togethers," followed. The occasion was one of enjoyment, all around.

Immense Railroad Business Here.

The amount and importance of the business carried on in the several departments of the Boston & Maine railroad at this, its junction point with the Canadian Pacific, is probably little understood by the public. Just at present on account of the increase in freight from the New York, New Haven and Hartford business on the freight-transfer platform is very brisk. At present there are 46 men employed in this branch of the business alone. They work in two shifts, covering 18 hours of the day and while being able to handle some three hundred tons of merchandise each day are enabled to keep abreast of the work and at last accounts were something like fifty carloads behind. The force employed is already rather too large for the space in which they have to work and should business continue it would seem that better facilities must be provided, though the railroads are no doubt meeting the new conditions as fast as possible.

Mrs. R. L. Wright left for Springfield, Mass. Saturday for a visit to her sister, Miss Zettie Lane, and will probably go to Meriden, Conn., to visit her daughter, before her return.

Two large maple trees standing just south of St. Mark's church have been cut down as their presence tended to injure the roof of the building. While in process of destruction a large limb fell upon the church, badly damaging the roof near the eaves.

The Annex club and invited friends, making a party of seventeen went to Barton Tuesday of last week and spent the afternoon. The favorite game of "500" was played and after a fine supper at Hotel Barton the party returned to Newport on the evening train.

The concert at Lane's this (Wednesday) evening is an entertainment that all music lovers will enjoy. The Choral union of upwards of 50 voices has put much time into its preparation and the proceeds go for the use of the village, to be wisely expended through the Civic association. Better plan to attend if possible.

Much sorrow is expressed for the death of Congressman D. J. Foster which occurred March 21 in Washington. Mr. Foster was in town on December 1st and at that time spoke before the Young Men's Improvement club, the members of which were very favorably impressed with the man and his ideas on International Peace, the subject of his remarks on that occasion.

"The Gales" in "Songs and Stories of the Red Men" was the final number in the entertainment course provided by the Asbury Brotherhood and they appeared at School hall Wednesday evening, March 20. The entertainment was well attended and like all others in the course was of the highest order. The success of the course and the evident demand for these entertainments has led the management to place contracts for a similar series the coming winter beginning in November.

A special convocation of Orleans Council, No. 19, was held at Masonic hall Thursday evening when Titus Strong Council of Greenfield, Mass., Gen. F. E. Pierce, T. I. M., worked the three degrees of the council upon a class of 15 candidates. The Titus Strong Council team is one of the crack teams of New England and the work was of a high order and greatly enjoyed by the large number of council masons present, many of whom had never seen the super-excellent master degree worked in full form.

Cary Maple Sugar Co.

VERMONT and CANADIAN MAPLE SUGAR
A SPECIALTY

Buying Agencies and Warehouses in All Sections of Vermont, Canada, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania

St. JOHNSBURY, VT., FEB. 6, 1912.

To Sugar Buyers:—

We are having a great deal of complaint as regards Vermont sugar being put up too soft. In practically every other sugar-producing section of the United States as well as Canada, they are putting up sugar very much more hard, and it is fast gaining favor over Vermont sugar on that account. Where the sugar is put up so soft, it ferments and sours, and syrup and mold will gather on top, and for most purposes it is almost entirely worthless. We must insist that all our sugar be put up so hard that it will boil at not less than 240 degrees Fahrenheit. If we buy sugar at all under this degree of hardness, it will be at a liberal discount from our regular prices.

We find we are losing also on SECOND-HAND WOODEN PACKAGES as well as on TIN PACKAGES. ALL SECOND-HAND PACKAGES, such as lard tubs, cotton-tine pails, sap buckets, jelly pails, etc., [and this year we shall include candy pails] we will take only at two cents per pound discount from the price we pay for standard sugar pails or sugar tubs.

We find on all of these second-hand packages that we are losing in addition to the cost of re-melting and putting into new packages, a large amount in leakage. It is not economy for farmers to use this kind of a package even if they do not cost anything, as on most of them they lose more on tare than a new pail would cost.

TIN PACKAGES OF ALL KINDS we will take only at two cent per pound less than we pay for standard new wooden packages.

UNGRAINED and BURNED and BUDDY SUGAR we have no market for and will not purchase this year.

SYRUP IN GALLON CANS we will not purchase at all.

There seems to be an impression in some sections that all of these pails are to be weighed and marked before putting the sugar. This is not so, we are furnishing a pail that is fair on tare and shall have the sugar subject to 10 per cent tare as we always have, as it would simply be impossible to figure the weight of the packages any other way.

Yours very truly,
GEO. C. CARY,
Manager.
